

COCKTAILS

vodka

VICTOR HUGO $108

This cocktail is not miserable, I can promise you that. Very refreshing and delightful with a mix of cucumber and lime, sweeten with sugar syrup and linked with egg white. Even colette came to have a few.

MARIE ANTOINETTE $98

A drop of apple liquor felt straight on her fancy dress, luckily it wasn't the eldeflower syrup. As usual, she spent all the taxes of the country to wash it with vodka eating grapes on the sofa. Feel the French Revolution. Keep an eye on your money, she might spend it for her ginger ale.

rum

SERGE GAINSBOURG $98

Let's jump to those real days. This period when Serge Gainsbourg was burning cash like the rum you'll get. That's right, that guy was bitter like the angostura. But in his way, as sweet as pineapple juice.

JULES VERNE $108

He travelled to France for his orgeat & crème de cassis, italy for the lemons, Brazil for the pineapple and he made sure to pass the Caribbean island for the white rum. Well, Jules Verne did it in 80 days, we bet that we can do quicker than that.

whisky

EDITH PIAF $98

Come along, Milord, sit at my table. Edith would definitely see "la vie en rose" after an evening on our terrace, a strong whisky for her brave and courageous characters, add as well some plum and orange to express the tenderness and sweetness of her personality. She was indeed a bit bitter against love, but she went through a lot. This cocktail will give you goose bumps like her song would gave you.

NAPOLEON BONAPARTE $108

Don't mess with the Emperor, he will get the mango syrup drained out of you. Mint loaded in the gun barrel. For sure it wasn't pineapple juice that he was drinking, could have been some brandy. This cocktail will conquer the beverage continent. Be careful, abuse it and it's waterloo guaranty.

gin

GUSTAVE EIFFEL $128

We build this cocktail with a particular basement, The Negroni. Like the strong building foundation of The Eiffel Tower, this cocktail stands out in a crowd with its smoky and sweet flavours. Our personal favourite, we love it.

CHRISTIAN DIOR $108

This gentleman was as tasteful as this gin cocktail. Fashion show for cucumber and lemon, tonight, you'll be walking on the catwalk darling, sparkling as tonic water. Dior, j'adore.

champagne

COCO CHANEL $118

"Simplicity is the keynote of all true elegance." like her Chanel No. 5, her signature perfume, this cocktail is meant to become a bestseller. Just a subtitle hint of peach and gourmand taste of pear. Nobody can ever say no to champagne.

BRIGITTE BARDOT $118

Feel like you were in the arms of this symbol of love, let yourself enchanted by the triple sec and the gin. Brigitte Bardot wakes you up with a touch of acidity brought by the lemon and spice it up with the ginger ale. You might find yourself saving animals tonight.

tequila

MARCEL PROUST $118

"Let us be grateful to people who make us happy; they are the charming gardeners who make our souls blossom." We will make you blossom like a cherry in our secret garden, like the beautiful white flower become a lemon or a grapefruit. You'll get watered with tequila and triple sec, trust me you'll be fresh.
